

Easter 2022

The Branch Festivals Group, Anthroposophical Society, Greater Washington Branch

"Easter: The Seed for a Future Fulfillment"

— a talk on Zoom by Rüdiger Janisch & 2 preparatory readings —

Readings: Friday, April 15 & Saturday, April 16 – 7:30 pm

Zoom talk: Monday, April 18 – 7:30 pm

– First Goetheanum rendering by Friedrich Bergmann –

At the first Easter a seed was laid for healing the great illness of humanity which began in Paradise—an illness in body, soul, and spirit. At the laying of the foundation stone of the first Goetheanum, another seed was laid to continue this healing in our time.

Rüdiger has suggested two readings (see next page) as preparation for his talk. We will read at home, but united in spirit; if you cannot read on the dates suggested, please feel free to do so at any time.

Preparatory readings, with suggested dates/times to read individually at home:

Good Friday, April 15, 7:30 pm: "Nature and Sub-Nature" from Anthroposophical Leading Thoughts, available here.

Saturday, April 16, 7:30 pm: "The Easter Imagination" from The Four Seasons and the Archangels, available here.

Rüdiger Janisch has been working in curative education and teaching in professional training programs in Germany and the United States for over forty years. A long-time student of anthroposophy, he serves on the Collegium of the School for Spiritual Science in North America. His contributions to adult education methods were recognized in the context of an international research project sponsored by the European Union. He has been a member of the core faculty of a joint "Training for Trainers" program supporting curative education and social therapy in Russia, Ukraine, Georgia, and Kyrgyzstan. He has also taught as an adjunct faculty member of the M.S.Ed program in Waldorf Remedial Education at Antioch University New England. Having taught many different aspects of anthroposophy and curative education, he is currently focused on action research and the development of artistic and experiential approaches to the spiritual scientific study of the human being.
