

Annual Meeting of the Greater Washington DC Branch of the Anthroposophical Society

April 21st from 11:30 am – 1 pm at the Washington Waldorf School, 4800 Sangamore Rd, Bethesda, MD.

The meeting will be an opportunity to hear and talk about current and possible future Branch and related activities in the region.

Membership is not required. Anyone interested in how Anthroposophy lives in the region is encouraged to attend.

The meeting will be preceded by two other events: a puppet show at 9 am and a talk by Harvard Professor Dan McKanan at 10 am. Free childcare will be provided during the talk and the annual meeting. Please contact Sandi Zeese to arrange for childcare or if you have questions: sandi1020@gmail.com.

Schedule of the three events:

- 9 am: The Beech Tree Puppets present The Hollow Stump, a Russian Folk Tale, adapted for rod animal puppets, suitable for ages 3 and up.
- 10 am: A talk by Professor Dan McKanan: What the Environmental Movement Can Learn from Anthroposophy. (Professor McKanan will also give a related talk on the previous evening at 7:30 pm also at the Washington Waldorf School.) Free childcare will be available.
- 11:30 am – 1pm: Annual meeting of the Washington DC Branch of the Anthroposophical Society
Free childcare will be available.

SPONSORED BY THE GREATER WASHINGTON DC BRANCH OF THE ANTHROPOSOPHICAL SOCIETY – ASGWB.ORG